

Mouse wants to become King

Once upon a time there was a mouse name Chu Chu. One day he found a piece of fine red cloth.

So Chu Chu when to the tailor....

Mr. Tailor,
please make a beautiful
hat from this cloth

Go away you little mouse! Don't waste my time!

This made Chu Chu very angry. He threatened...

I will come at dead of night with an army of friends and nibble
away all the clothes
in your shop!

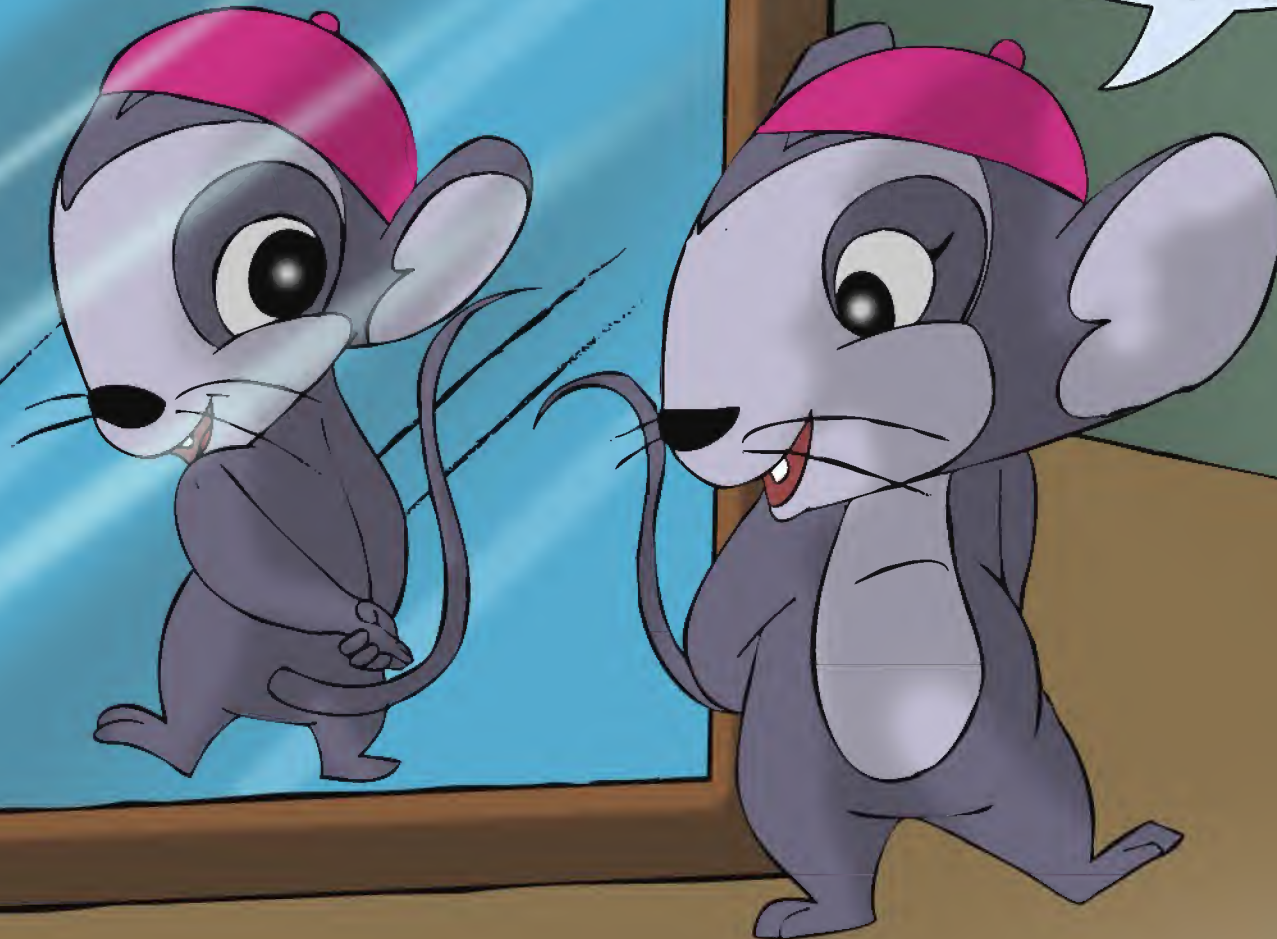

This scared the tailor & he make a fine red hat for mouse

Chu Chu takes his new hat & looked in the mirror.

Wow! What a nice hat. It would look more beautiful if it had a golden border on it.

Now Chu Chu went to another shop...

Will you please
add a golden border
to my hat?

Go away mouse,
I am busy

I will come at dead of night
with an army of friends and nibble away all the borders in your shop

The shopkeeper got scared immediately put a golden border to Chu Chu's hat

Once again Chu Chu stood in front of the mirror...

Chu Chu went to the palace and stated shouting....

Talk properly with me!
I am the king! My hat is better than your king's hat.
Call him here immediately
and ask him to give me the throne.

King came to Chu Chu...

Look my crown is better than yours! Do you agree?

No I don't agree with you!

A cartoon illustration of Jerry the mouse from Tom and Jerry. He is depicted with a mischievous expression, wearing a crown with yellow and pink bands. He is holding a green leaf in his mouth and has one hand on his hip. The background is a solid green color.

Than I will come at dead of night along with an army of soldiers and nibble
your crown away.

The king was not scared....

A king with a mustache, wearing a yellow crown and a purple robe with yellow armlets and a yellow belt, is kneeling on a green hill. He is looking down with a slightly nervous or pleading expression. In the background, there is a large tree and a blue sky.

All right, all right
I agree your hat is better than mine.
So what?

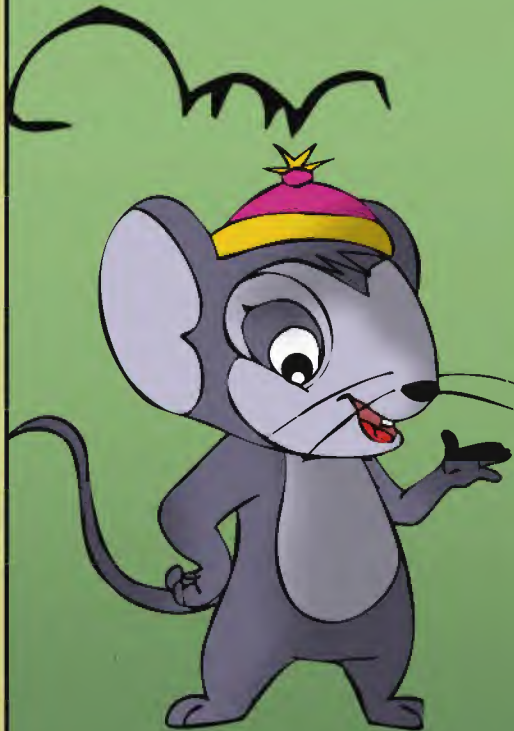

A small grey mouse is standing on the grass, looking up at the king. It is wearing a tiny yellow crown with a red jewel on top.

Then I am the king! Give me my throne

The king said...

Here is your wonderful throne. Please occupy it. You are the king!.

The mouse proudly went inside to sit on the throne...

...and the king quietly closed the cage trapping Chu Chu inside.

Moral: Similarly, the living entity gets puffed up very fast. He forgets his constitutional position and things that he has become the king. At end he is blinded by his ego and gets trapped.
